This is me!

I have two mayor interests in life! Thai boxing and Video games. The first one mentioned lets me express and challenge myself physically, while the other one makes me relax and trains my mind. But now when I am starting to get older, I think it makes more sense to make a living out of the one that does not require me getting punched in the face.

I was born and raised on Södermalm. Here I got my love for sound and constant events around me. With that in my baggage I went on to the restaurant industry where I started working as a bartender. Here I really got to work with my creative side and that is what I loved about it, making my own drinks and such. But now I am looking for new ways to express my creativity, hopefully as a game designer.

What is going on right now?

Today I work as an Assistant bar manager at a restaurant called Hallwylska while trying to make my dream to work in the gaming industry come true. On the side I'm working on some hobby projects with a couple of friends of mine. We are developing a "hack & slash" game with "Dark Souls" inspired bosses. Here I have the roll as "Lead Designer" and "Assets Artist". These rolls demand.

- Leaderships
- Planning
- Creative Thinking

My earlier work experience has development my ability to...

- ... Handle stress and stressful environments.
- Lead a team and come up with new ideas to improve.
- ... Multitask and have patience.

Working behind the bar in a few of Stockholm's most popular restaurant is something that has taught me a lot. Making sure to always be ready because you can almost never really tell when a restaurant is going to fill up. I have always appreciated my work because someone could easily fill your shoes if you decided to leave.

Why am I the one you are searching for?

- I have a meritorious background in a hectic work industry.
- Experience in studying video game design showing I want do develop and get better.
- My curiosity for this future job title is my drive to secure a fun and exciting life.

To convince you further, I would meet and talk more, where I can introduce myself in more detail and hear more about you. Sincerely, Set Engberg.
